

A N D R E W J . K E N N E Y

“Hey Man, How’s Life?”

a dream.
like arabian nights.
haboobs, TCNS, and shower shoes.
a case of ringworm, athletes foot, diarrhea.
dinner for breakfast, leftovers for lunch, breakfast for dinner.
days into nights into days, two for the price of one, buy one day, get a bonus month free.
work eat work, eat work gym, shower eat read,
email stars & stripes, i like my news a day old.
labor day, birthday, columbus day, thanksgiving,
christmas, new year’s eve, bring your party hats. . .

Note: Haboobs: Intense sandstorms; TCNS: Third Country Nationals (non-American private military contractors).

ANDREW J. KENNEY is a 2001 graduate of the United States Air Force Academy. He is currently in the Middle East serving as an unmanned aerial vehicle pilot.